Broader Term and Narrower Term Relationship

Any term in the Alphabetic Thesaurus may fit in a hierarchical classification of lesser or greater specificity (or in more than one). Where several levels of hierarchy exist, the Alphabetic Thesaurus lists all broader and narrower terms. Broader or narrower terms are indicated by the abbreviations BT or NT as appropriate to represent various levels of specificity. In the following sample, references to more general terms are provided:

Cattle
BT Animals
Domestic animals
Mammals

In this case, three references from the specific term to more general terms are provided. Each BT reference is reciprocated with an NT reference:

Animals
NT Cattle
Domestic animals
NT Cattle
Mammals
NT Cattle

Related Term Relationship

The Related Term (RT) cross reference refers the user to terms which have some conceptual relationship to the term under consideration, but which are not consistently synonymous or related hierarchically. For example:

Loan defaults
RT Foreclosures
Foreclosure
RT Loan defaults

The RT reference is also used in lieu of the BT/NT reference with 'array terms'.

Array Terms

Array terms are very broad terms, for example, 'Agreements/', 'Equipment/', and 'Facilities/', which are considered to be too broad to be of much value in indexing or retrieval. Such terms have been appended with a slash (/) wherever they appear in the Thesaurus to indicate that, if possible, a more specific term should be used in lieu of this term. The listing of RT references following each array term refers the reader to all terms at the next lower level of specificity, but not to the still lower levels of specificity. For example:

Equipment/
(Use of a more specific term is recommended; consult the terms listed below)

RT Capital
Communications equipment
Construction equipment
Electronic equipment
Equipment contracts
Equipment cost claims
Equipment maintenance
Equipment management
Equipment repairs
Government owned equipment
Medical equipment
Office equipment
Optical equipment
Rental equipment
Test equipment

Scope Notes

Scope notes are used in several instances, particularly when term ambiguity cannot be otherwise avoided. For example:

Foreign students
(Foreign nationals studying in the United States)

Scope notes are also used when no other alternative is available to delimit the meaning of a term. For example:

Debt held by public
(Gross federal debt held by the public, excludes government trust funds, revolving funds, and off-budget federal entities)

Scope notes also provide 'dictionary-type' definitions for unusual or little known terms. For example:

Anadromous fishes
(Fish that swim upstream to spawn)

In addition, a 'standard' scope note is used in conjunction with all array terms, as in the following example (note the slash):

Facilities/
(Use of a more specific term is recommended; consult the terms listed below)

The 'terms listed below' are Related Term (RT) cross references which guide the user to less ambiguous or more specific terms.

Finally, scope notes are used to indicate Thesaurus changes, specifically the addition of new terms/concepts or new terms with conceptual/hierarchical overlap. For example:

Credit bureaus
(Added 4/21/81. For earlier indexing use the terms 'Collection procedures', 'Debt collection', or 'Information disclosure'.)

Even when no scope notes exist, terms in the Thesaurus are in effect 'defined' by the hierarchical relationships which are shown. For example, it becomes immediately evident what 'Economic factors' are when the Narrower Term cross references direct the user to the terms 'Consumer Price Index' and 'Gross National Product'.

THE KWOC LIST

Following the Alphabetic Thesaurus is the Key-Word-Out-of-Context (KWOC) list. Each significant word in each Thesaurus term is extracted, listed alphabetically, and followed by a listing of all the terms containing that word. Non-preferred terms are preceded by the symbol †. Hence, all Thesaurus terms containing any particular word are grouped together and can be easily scanned. The following is a partial KWOC listing from the keyword 'Exchange':

EXCHANGE
Cultural exchange programs
† Currency exchange rates
Exchange of persons programs
† Foreign cultural exchange
Foreign exchange rates
† International exchange rates
† PX (post exchange)
† Prisoner exchange programs

Several limitations of the KWOC list should be kept in mind:

(1) The extracted word, which is in upper case letters, may or may not be a Thesaurus term.

(2) Both preferred and non-preferred terms are included in the KWOC list. A quick check under the unacceptable term in the Alphabetic Thesaurus listing will lead the user to the appropriate synonym.

(3) The KWOC list does not substitute for BT/NT cross references. The extracted words may or may not be related hierarchically, and other terms which are so related may not contain the keyword under consideration.

(4) Not all words are extracted, for example, common connectives such as 'of' do not appear in the KWOC.

TERMINOLOGICAL CONVENTIONS

Terms are selected for inclusion in the Thesaurus on the basis of their estimated usefulness in indexing and retrieval. Some of the factors considered are their:

- (1) Degree of ambiguity (or lack thereof).
- (2) Relative frequency of occurrence in documents being indexed.
- (3) Acceptability to the community being served.
- (4) Relationship to previously accepted terms.

These factors are highly interdependent and are considered simultaneously during term selection.

Term Ambiguity

Among the basic problems facing an indexer are those of ambiguity. Syntax, synonymy and homography, breadth of interest, and variation of viewpoint can all give rise to ambiguities. When subject terms have more than one meaning, or where distinction between terms must be made, clarification is provided in one of two ways:

- (1) Parenthetical qualifying expressions are added, becoming part of the subject term. For example:

Plants (industrial)

Plants (organisms)

- (2) Parenthetical scope notes are added for explanation or definition; they do not become part of the subject term. For example:

Recession
(Decline in GNP for two consecutive quarters)

Abbreviations

In most cases, abbreviations and acronyms are included as non-preferred terms if they are in common usage by the user community. For example:

CPAs
USE Accountants
OTEC
USE Ocean thermal energy conversion
EEO programs
USE Fair employment programs

Term Syntax

The syntax of terms is direct rather than inverted; for example, the preferred syntax is 'Defense cost control' rather than 'Cost control (defense)'.

Inverted non-preferred synonyms are not provided. The user can find the preferred word order by searching the KWOC list under any word contained in the term; for example, the term 'Synthetic organic chemicals' will be listed in the KWOC under the terms 'Synthetic', 'Organic', and 'Chemicals', but in the Alphabetic Thesaurus only under the term 'Synthetic'.

Alphabetization

Terms are alphabetized on a word-by-word basis. This means that the string of characters forming a term is sorted without any modifications, counting blank spaces and hyphens, as well as other special characters, as normal characters. In addition, any capital letter precedes a lower case letter, and terms containing a special character are sorted by the ASCII value of the special character.

Grammatical Form

Subject terms are presented in the noun form. The choice between singular and plural term-forms depends on whether the term is a count noun (a noun to which the question "how many?" is applicable) or a quantity noun (a noun to which the question "how much?" is applicable). A count noun is shown in the plural (for example, 'Municipal governments') while a quantity noun is shown in the singular (for example, 'Gross federal debt'). Terms signifying processes, such as 'Computer modeling', are always singular.

HOW TO USE THE THESAURUS FOR RETRIEVAL OF DOCUMENTS

Suppose the user wants to find any documents about 'Vacation time' in the GAO data base. The Thesaurus can help to pinpoint the best 'look-up' term or terms for the search. The user might begin by checking the rather general term 'Vacation time' in the Thesaurus, in which case the user would find the following entry:

Vacation time
USE Leave

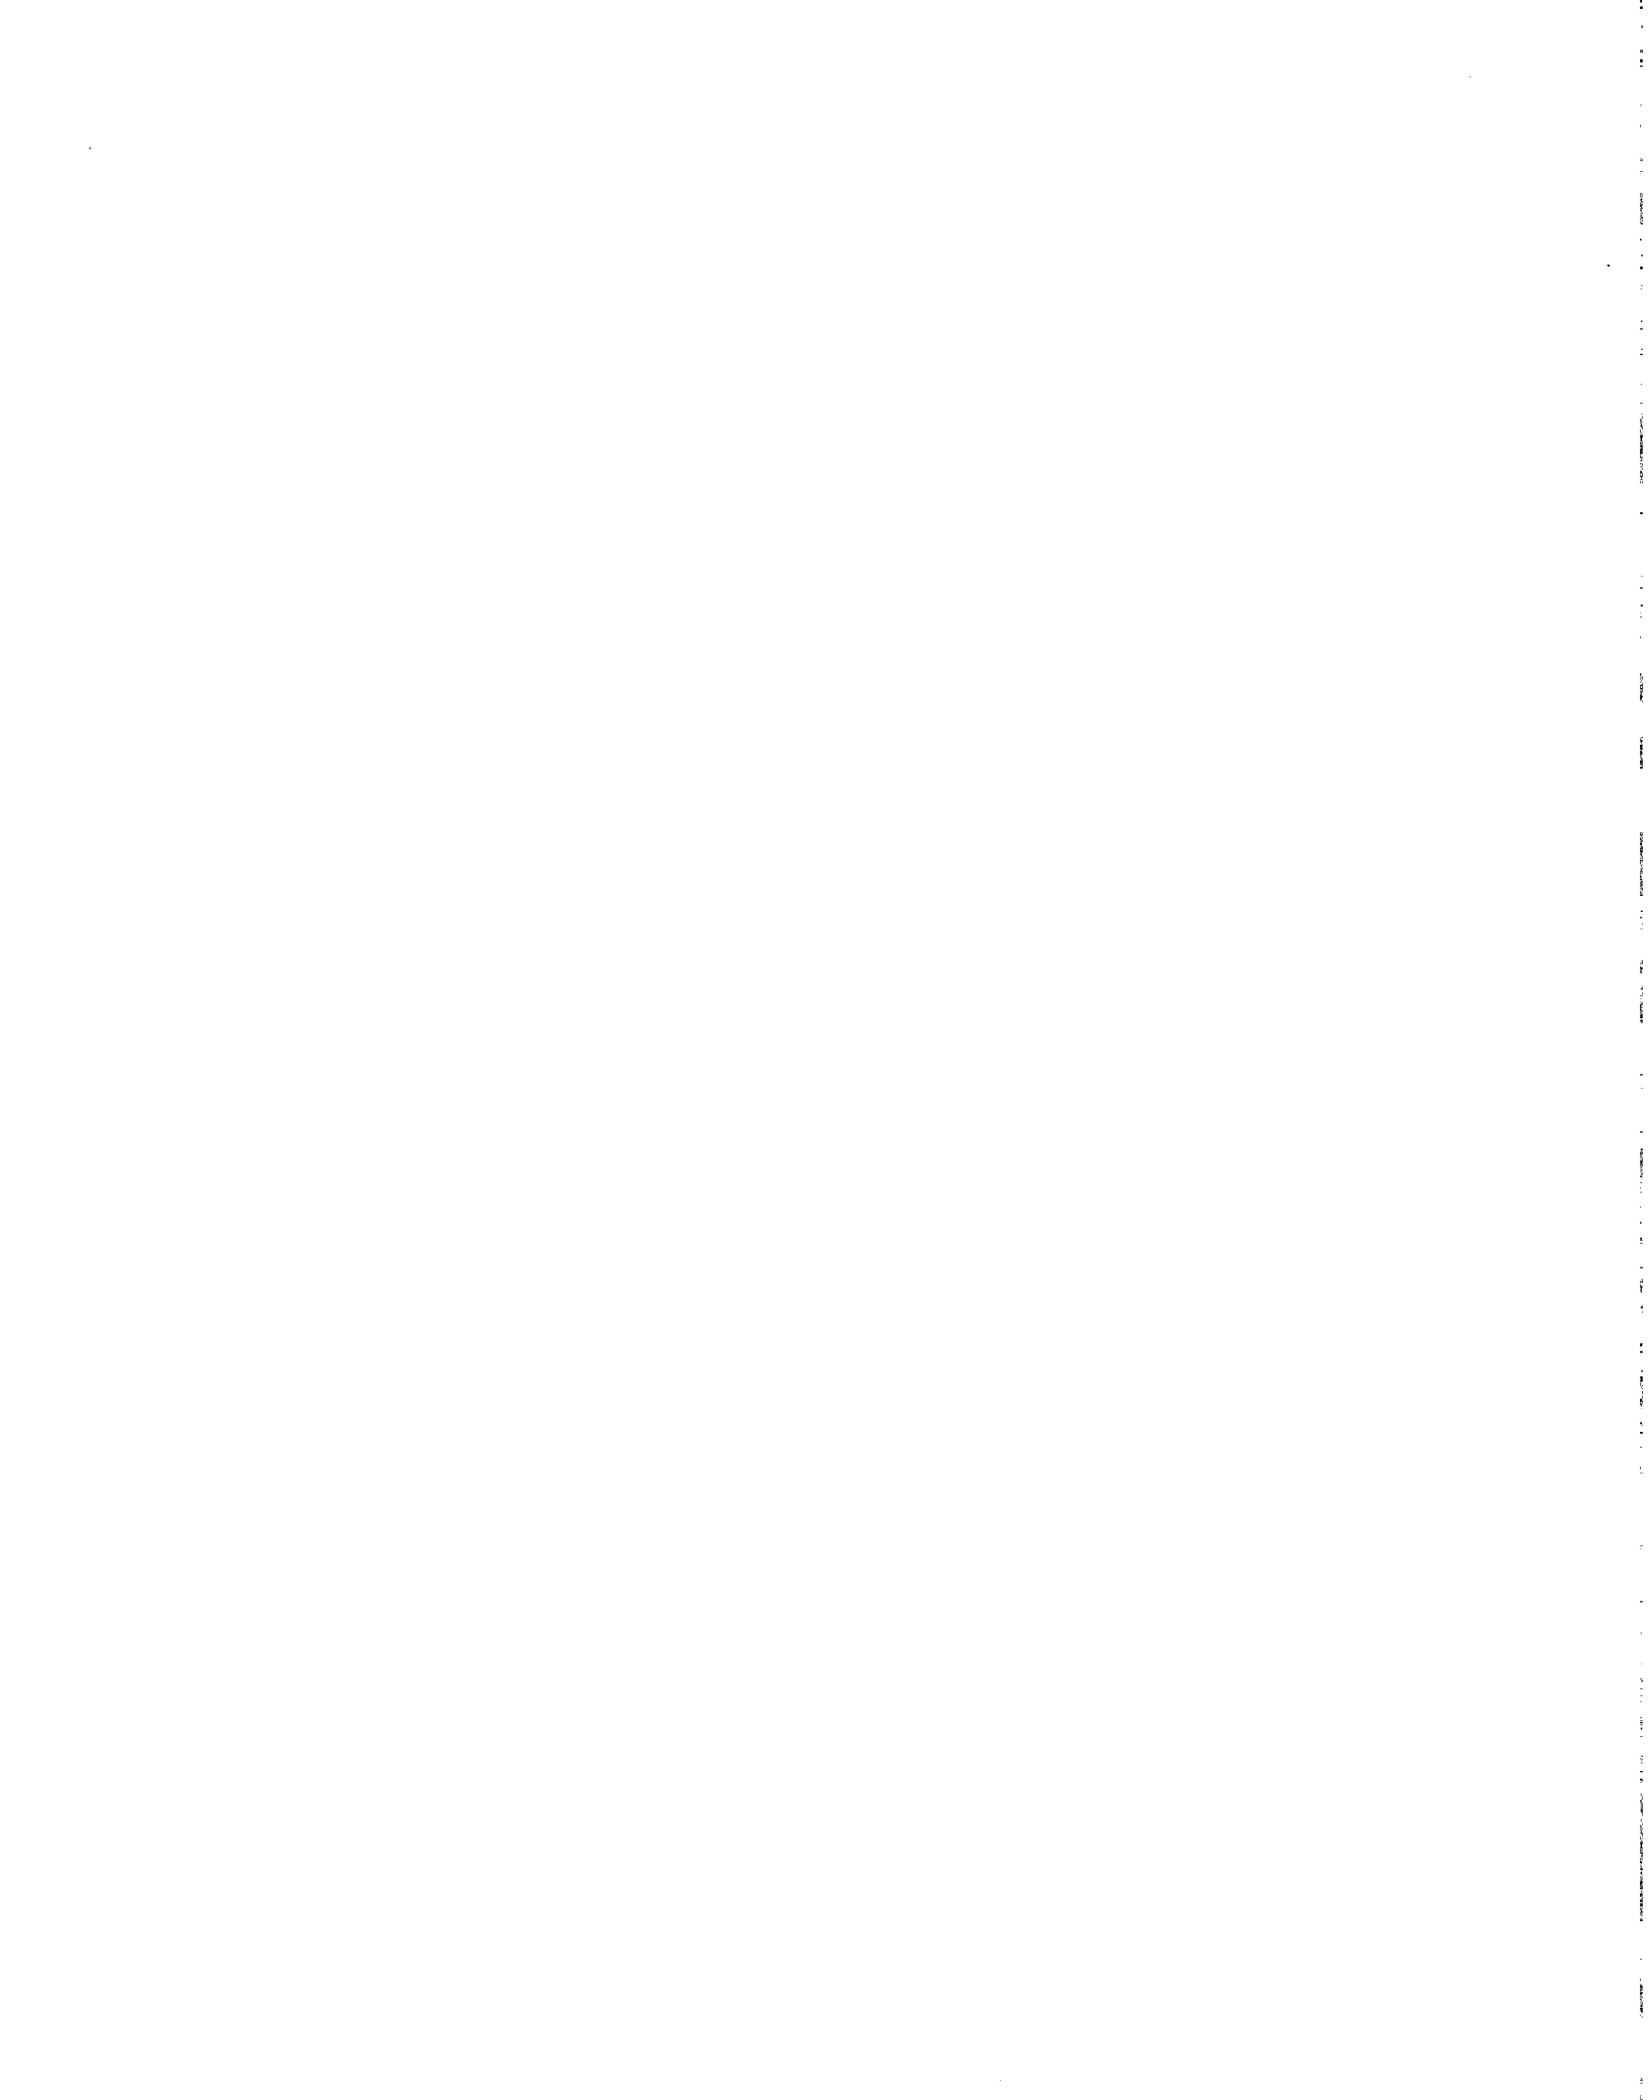

This citation indicates that the term 'Leave' is the preferred term for indexing and retrieval rather than the synonymous term 'Vacation time'. Turning to the preferred term, the user finds the following list of cross references:

Leave
UF Military leave
Vacation time
BT Compensation
NT Administrative leave
Annual leave
Compensation time
Leave without pay
Sick leave
Unauthorized leave
RT Leave restoration

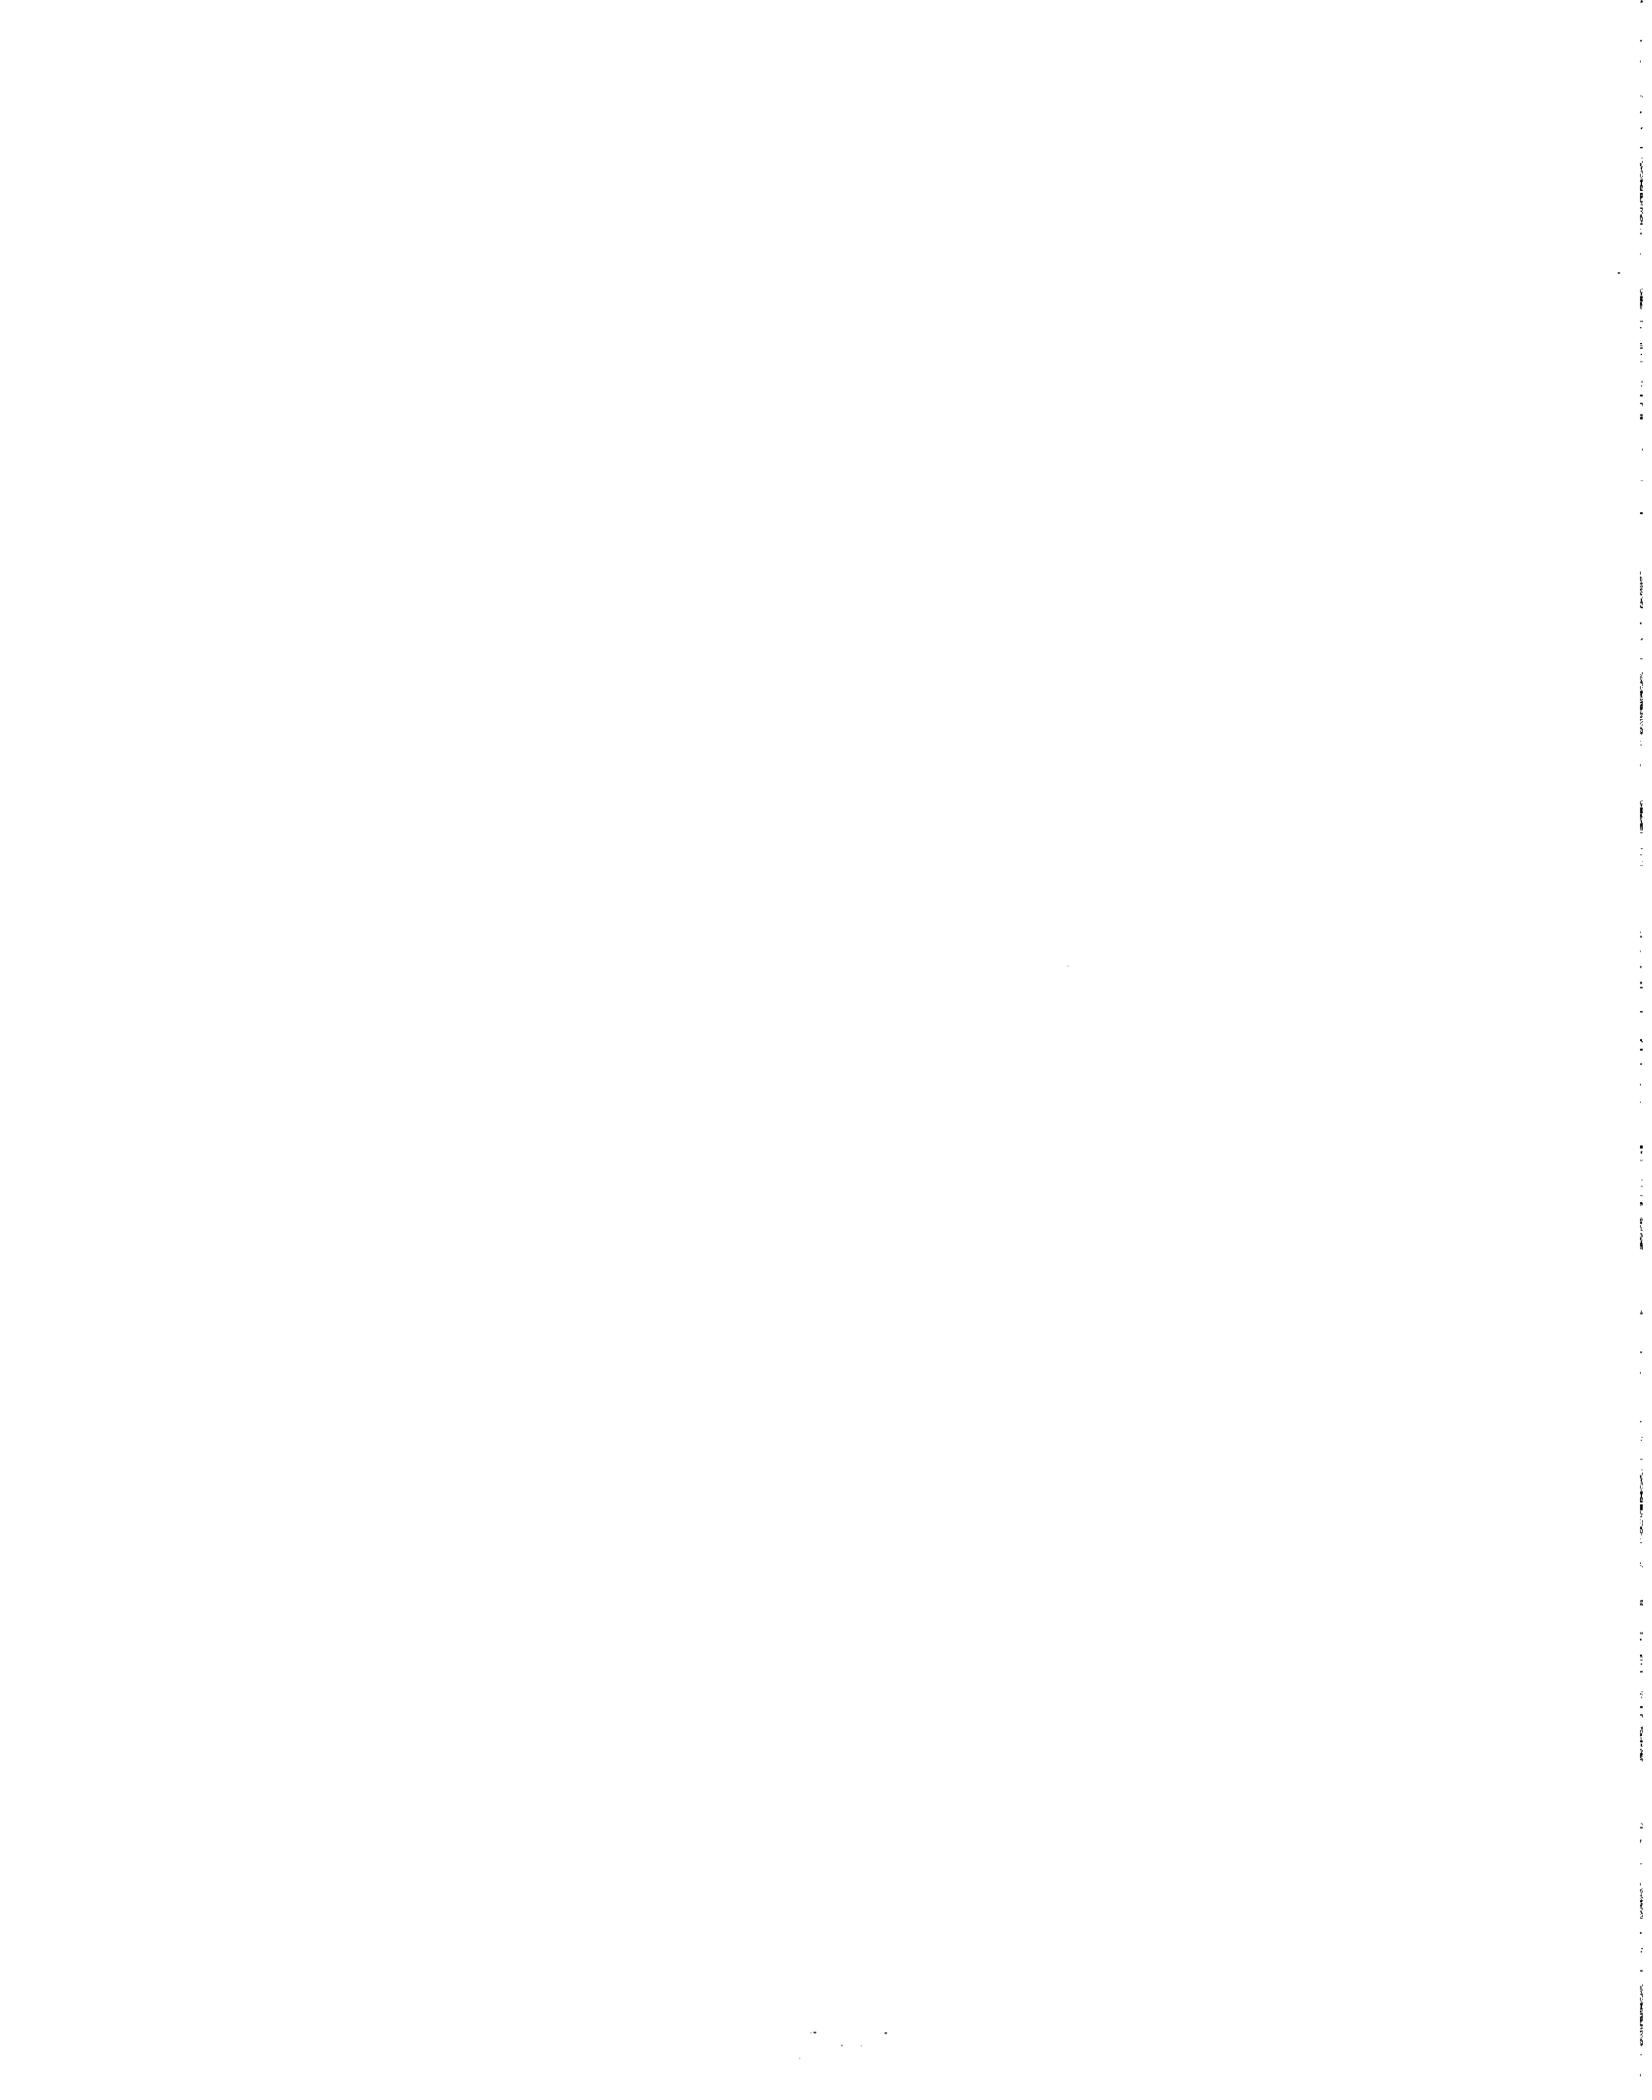

Skipping over the terms designated UF, which are non-preferred synonyms of the term 'Leave', and those designated BT, the user comes to the NT references. Checking down the list, the user finds the terms 'Annual leave' and 'Leave without pay'--both of which are valid search terms which would allow the user to retrieve the precise information sought. The user should also note the RT reference 'Leave restoration' in case it, too, might be helpful to the search. The user can progress up and down the hierarchies, and among hierarchies, to locate terms with the desired meaning and degree of specificity. If the first term the user locates is a non-preferred term, the preferred term (per the USE reference) should be referred to and the search re-initiated from that point. If the first term located is followed by a slash, it is an array term--one which is too broad for indexing and retrieval. The user should scan the RT terms listed under the array and select ones of interest as new points to begin the search. In general, the user should not accept a term as the final choice without first determining whether there are still narrower terms which would be better choices.

If all efforts to this point fail to turn up a suitable search term, the user should refer to the KWOC list at the back of the Thesaurus. The user should select a single word that might be part of the term that is sought. The word should then be looked up in the KWOC, and once terms of potential interest are located in the KWOC, the Alphabetic Thesaurus should again be consulted for narrower or related terms which might also be of interest.
